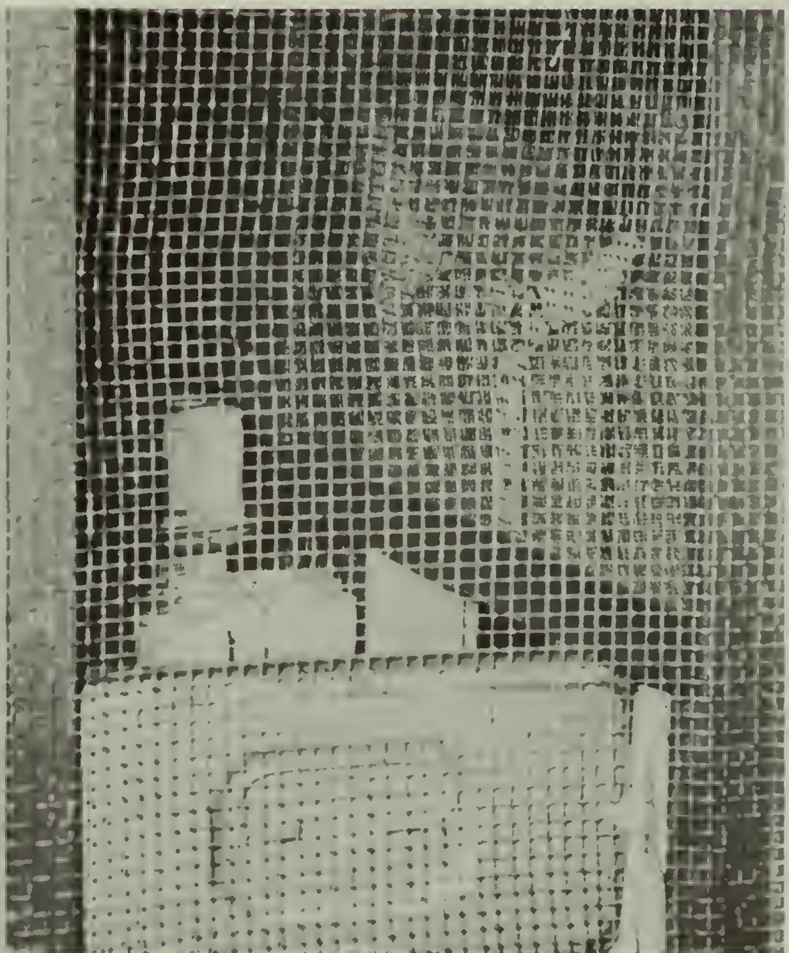
Fragments . . .



NORTH QUINCY

Some are large, some are small;

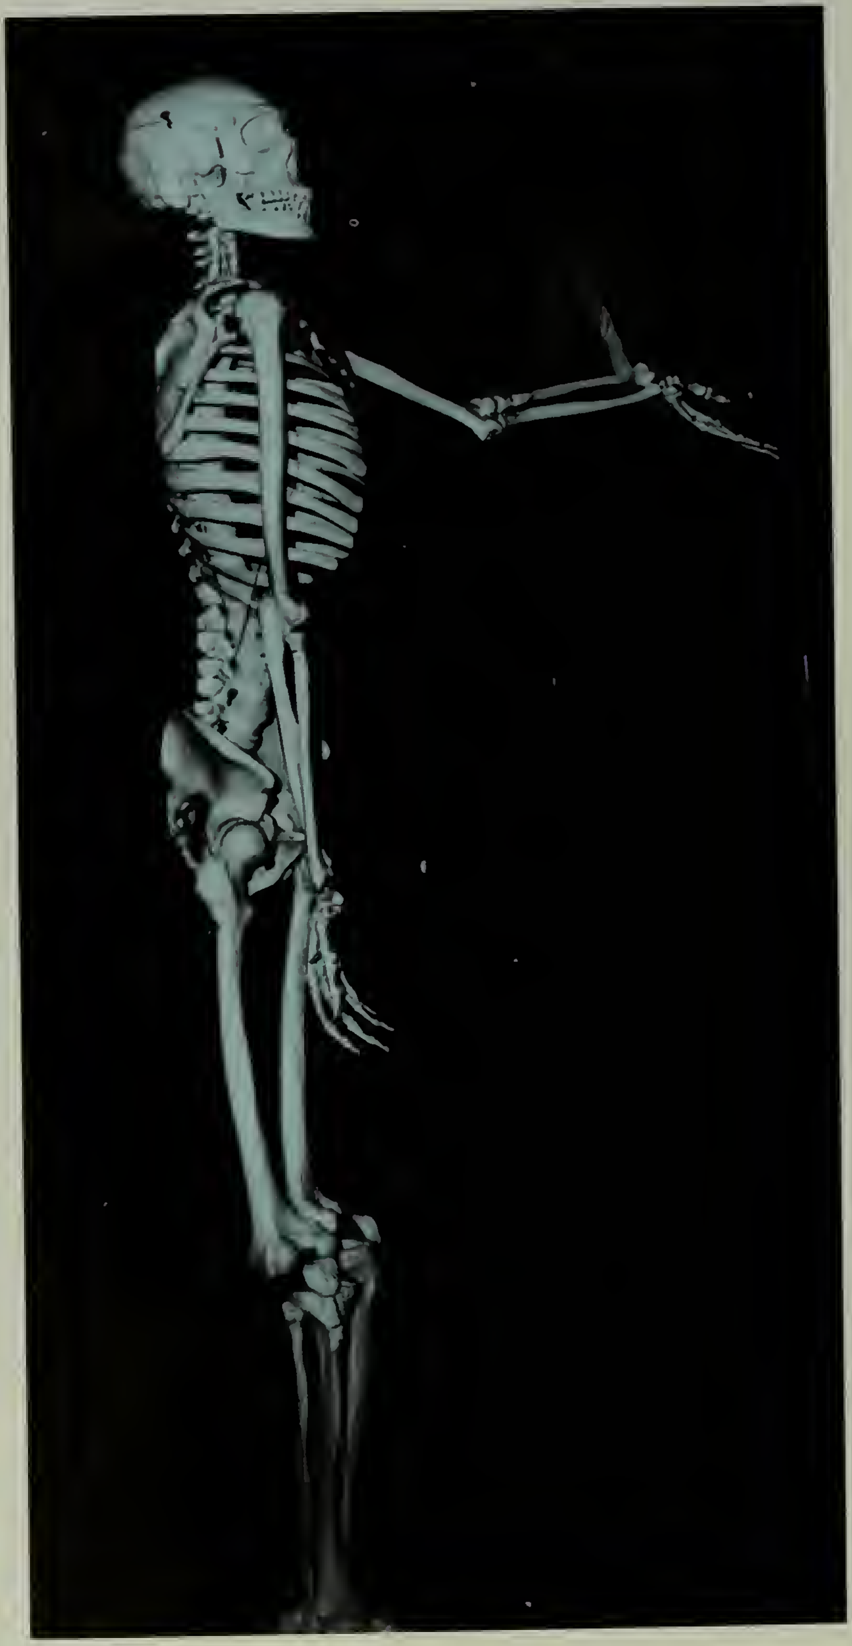
NORTH OVER REVERE

some are colorful, some are dull;

Some we see;

Others we feel within ourselves.

No two are alike.

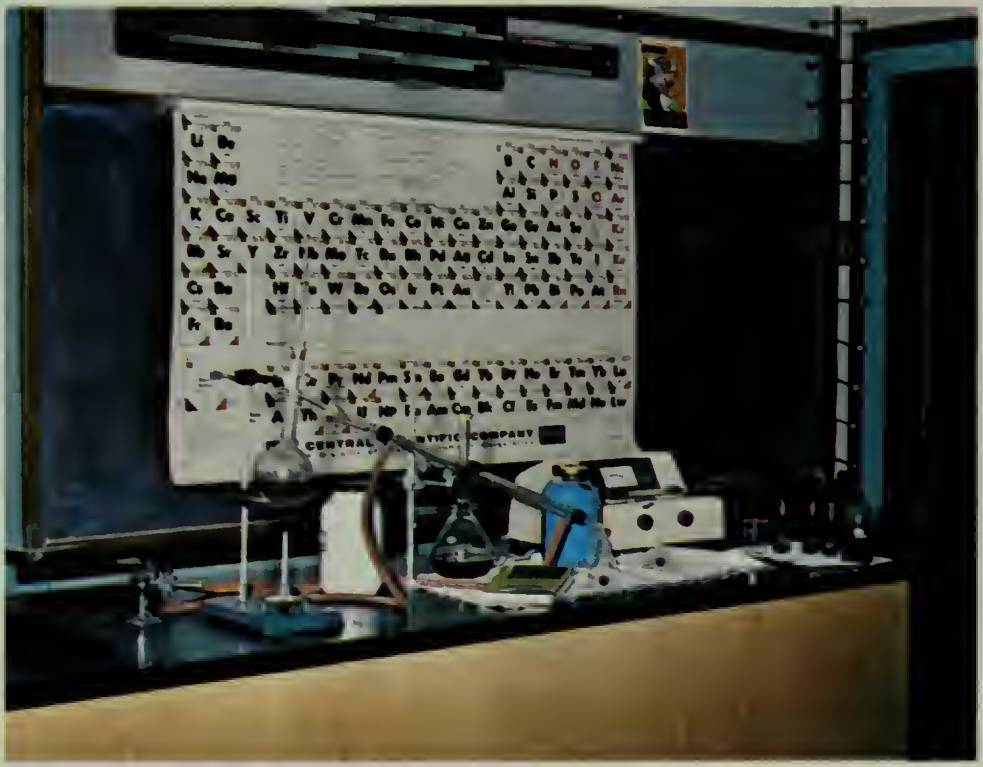


Our life at North is composed of bits and pieces of experiences,

jagged and smooth;

personal and shared.

LIFE LONG AGO
THE STORY OF FOSSILS
by CARROLL LANE FENTON



The radiant moments and the routine moments are equally vital.

Our world is an unfolding of the new before us and an accumulation of the old behind us.

We place these fragments together

Seniors

Larry, May, Pat, and Margie . . . Four names familiar to all of us, four devoted students who have led our senior class this year. They introduced new class advisor, Mr. Pierce, to his duties and with his assistance chose committees and organized activities to raise money for the Senior Prom and class gift. They worked on a new set of school rules and even attempted to bring back a forgotten dress code. In short, they have helped to make the "69'ers" a class with class.

We seniors value our friendships and experiences at North. We will keep some friends for many years and will lose others at graduation. We will fit some experiences into our mosaic of life and forget others. We leave North with a realization that life is complex but hope that now we are better able to meet future challenges.

No student at North is twenty-one, but nevertheless all students have the opportunity to retain some voting privileges. Each year they help elect representatives to the Student Council, a student government that serves both as an advisory board and as a service organization. With the help of their little red and black suggestion box, members of the Student Council bring student views to the attention of the administration and recommend changes and improvements in the running of the school. They also conduct opening exercises and keep the student body informed by reading the morning notices over the public address system. Under the leadership of president, Cliff McDonald, and advisor, Mr. Carlin, Council members undertook a number of projects. Together with the Girls' Club, the Student Council sponsored the annual "Mr. Touchdown" dance. They also raised funds by selling boxes of candy, and conducted the "March of Dimes" collection.

Girls' Club

Girls' Club is not a secret sorority, but a thriving service organization. Though all senior girls are members, an executive board of twenty members planned and presented such major activities as the "Mr. Touchdown" Dance and the splendid "Victorian Valentine" Semi-Formal. Every month a new project was underway. In November, the girls prepared Thanksgiving baskets for the needy. In December, they baked and sold fruitcakes and in January they sold cookbooks. In addition to numerous bake sales, they held other fund raising activities to enable one girl to receive a scholarship for her service. They topped off the year by organizing the annual Manet Show.

Jerry Mulcahy, Linda Zona, Pam Wye, and Philip Carroll, this year's Junior Class Officers, were determined to make their class the best ever to graduate from North. Assisted by their advisor, Miss McCoy, they began their class activities with the delivery of class rings in October. During the football season, "Raider Power" buttons raised money needed for the prom and for next year's activities. Two dances, the Halloween Dance and the Winter Dance were successful practice runs for the Junior Prom in April.

Having a ball.

Are you going to Scarborough Fair? In April of 1968, many Juniors replied "Yes I am!" with a tingle of excitement as they thought of their forthcoming Junior Prom. On the big day, April 26, North's gymnasium was transformed into a carousel of color. Streamers, paintings and balloons created a gala fair-like atmosphere. The happy couples danced to the music of the Eric Ross Orchestra or eagerly helped themselves to refreshments. Class officers distributed petite favors as a souvenir of this soirée magnifique.

Modern Language Honor Societies

Parlez-vous francais? Sprechen Sie Deutsch? Habla Usted espanol? Vocarene Lingua Latina? To be a member of a Language Honor Society, a student must have the ability to not only speak French, German, Spanish or Latin but must also maintain a B+ average or better and demonstrate a genuine interest in a foreign language. This year members of our French Honor Society dreamed of the Champs-Elysees, our German leaders longed for Baden-Baden, our Spanish speakers hoped to make a fiesta in Madrid and our Latin scholars prayed for a revival of ancient Rome.

National Honor Society

Scholarship, leadership, service, and character: four qualities of each National Honor Society member. The society itself has an important purpose. It strives to create enthusiasm for scholarship, to promote worthy leadership, to stimulate a desire to render service, and to encourage the development of character in the pupils of North. Members of the Society are selected in their junior or senior year by a panel of teachers. The sponsor of the Society this year is Mr. Lyons. This year, the members participated in fund-raising projects in order to present North with an electric-organ.

Behind every project in the Science Fair, there is a story.

A story of doing hours of research and preparation in the labs or at the Thomas Crane.

A story of giving up the Saturday night movie in order to watch Drosophila hatch.

A story of accidently using potassium cyanide instead of potassium sulfate.

A story of staying up the entire night before.

A story of nervously explaining the formation of a crystal to an M.I.T. professor.

A story of gaining knowledge and experience, if not a prize to go with it.

Science Club

Science Club meetings consist of student demonstrations, guest lecturers, faculty explanations of equipment, discussions, slides, films and endless planning of dances and polywog sales, under the supervision of Miss Schields. Members attended the University of Massachusetts' "Science in Action" program and M.I.T. and Museum of Science lectures. Another major program was the Open House at which the students who had attended Summer Science Institutes attempted to explain their work to their parents. A dance and a bake sale raised enough money to send students to Summer Science Institutes.

Marine Science Club

Members of the Marine Science Club have one thing in common—an adventurous spirit. The Marine Science Club could be renamed the Adventurous Peoples' Club. Members of the club this year conducted experiments in the midst of Quincy's renowned salt marshes, and collected specimens from the ocean at Wollaston Beach. Some members built aquariums equipped with their findings. Others set up an exhibit for the Science Fair. By June, after having learned the basics of marine chemistry, biology, and physics, they realized the importance of the ocean as a source of food, fresh water and mineral resources.

You might visit the Wise Fluorite Mines, climb up Mount Monadnock, visit Miss Bollen's cottage in New Hampshire, or witness the printing of a Boston Globe Edition. Furthermore, with the help of club sponsor, Miss Townsend, you will prepare yourself for a career in engineering or a related field.

Being in a band is an unforgettable and truly worthwhile experience. No Band member at North could ever forget the 7th period rehearsals in the auditorium under the strict discipline of director, Carl Leone, or the hikes to Cavanaugh Field to practice marching formations in the crisp autumn air, or the hours of individual practicing for an agenda of nine football games, two rallies, four parades, and four concerts. In addition to providing varied experiences of musical enjoyment for its members, the Band gave members moments of successful achievement, widened their cultural horizons, enhanced their social development, and provided them with the discipline of devoting their efforts to a specific goal. A few members furthered their enrichment by participating in the New England, Southeast District, and All-State Music Festivals.

Come blow your horn.

Were you ever able to sit perfectly still while listening to North's Stage Band? Or were you unconsciously tapping your toe, clicking your heels, or snapping your fingers? If the second case was true, your behavior was acceptable. Few can resist the cool, suave sound of our stage band, improved this year by the attraction of our own male and female vocalists. Monday's earlybirds, the Stage Band, conducted by Mr. Leone, performed at basketball games, the Spring and Pops Concerts and the Manet Show. Also they competed for positions in the All-Instrumental Concert.

Concert Choir

This was a year of "firsts" for the Concert Choir. During first period every day, when many students were still half asleep, the Concert Choir members, under the direction of Mr. Carbonneau, were awakened by the sound of their own clear voices. For the first time in North's history, the Concert Choir sang a Christmas Carol at an assembly in the middle of October, while awaiting the arrival of the Irish counsul! In December, they presented their first operetta, "Amahl and the Night Visitors", a smashing success and superb accomplishment. And who could ever forget their magnificent performances at the Christmas, Spring, and Pops Concerts? Noted for their fine musicianship, many Concert Choir members attended the District, New England, and All-State Music Festivals.

Drama Workshop

One day, Hamlet at Elsinore cried out, "The play's the thing!" To this day his words, actually William Shakespeare's, have become immortal, holding special meaning for stage actors and actresses, including those of North's Drama Club, sponsored by Miss Silverman. With a surge of energy, members presented the "Conceptual Essence of Christmas" for handicapped children at the Pollard and Furnace Brook Schools and "The Overpraised Season", a one act play, for the Ninth Grade. In March they entered deGhelderode's "Three Actors and their Drama" in the Massachusetts High School Dramatics Festival. They also produced a full-length drama in the spring. In addition to acting, members learned from theater professionals the arts of set building, costuming and makeup. The overall purpose of the Drama Club is "to open the minds of both the actors and the audience so that they will question, examine, accept or reject, or at least react to the emotions and experiences brought to life on stage," according to president, Bill West.

No, not utter chaos, just a typical Art Guild meeting. In spite of its large membership, the Art Guild has sponsored some fine programs this year. By attending movies, concerts, museums, plays and art galleries, Art Guild members have learned a great deal about the world of Fine Arts. Also, the Guild presented a "Native Uprising" Dance in order to raise money for the Biafra/UNICEF Fund. The donation wa deeply appreciated and shown in a thank-you letter whic was received by the Guild.

Under the direction of Miss Mayo and Miss Manoli, the Math Club proved this year, in only a few simple steps, that intermural competition applies not only to sports but also to academic subjects.

Step one—Five mathematicians represent North as a math team. On the team can be a maximum of two seniors and no more than one sophomore.

Step two—Team reviews concepts and mathematical problems.

Step three—Team enters the Greater Boston Math League.

Step four—Team participates in four meets with nine other schools.

Step five—Team wins second place in the first three meets! In addition to choosing a different team for each meet, the Math Club gives undivided attention to solving the "untouchable" math problems which sometimes stump even the teachers. Score ten points to this year's Math Club for creating new enthusiasm for mathematics!

Debating Club

Resolved: Is the Debating Club Worthwhile?

Point Number One: The Debating Club trains our students in the fundamental techniques of public speaking.

Point Number Two: The Debating Club trains our students to think in clear, precise terms, to express their thoughts, to question and to research an area completely.

Point Number Three: The Debating Club measures overall success and does not use a typical win-loss record.

Point Number Four: The Debating Team was accepted into the South Shore Debating League.

Great Books Club

On any Friday afternoon you may find a group of enthusiastic students deeply involved in discussion of philosophical import. Under the able guidance of Miss Johnson, an adult Great Books leader, the club investigates the worlds of authors such as Sophocles, Thoreau and Plato. Confrontations between the members are frequent and prolonged. Often they result in heated arguments. The discussions are of value because they not only relate the questions raised by the classical authors to contemporary problems, but also present further issue for the student to consider himself.

When it comes to answering telephones, giving information to people new to the building, looking up records, running errands or simply tracking down misplaced students, our Office and Guidance Receptionists are experts. Not only did this year's staff give up study periods in order to provide their services to North, but also, at the same time, gained experience in working with people.

Nurses' Career Club

"Do I really want to be a nurse or is this idea just a passing fancy?" Many girls who have asked themselves this question find their answer by joining the Nurses' Career Club. In this club, the girls learn about nursing, types of nursing schools, X-ray technology and physical therapy. They also have the opportunity to see nursing in practice at the Quincy City, Boston City, and Peter Bent Brigham Hospitals. Sometimes, the girls discuss nursing with speakers involved in that career. Club advisor, Miss Gray, is always willing to answer the girls' questions. The Nurses' Career Club also sponsors many fund-raising activities such as bake sales so that every year, one lucky senior girl may be presented with a nursing scholarship.

Also, the Council conducted its annual Red Cross Drive in February.

Library Staff

If you ask a North girl out, but get the reply "Sorry, I'm booked up for weeks," chances are she's a member of North's Library Staff. Not only does the Library Staff have to manage the herd of frustrated students that drop by daily at 2:30 for World Civ., History, and Government books. They also have to check books in and out, mend broken bindings, put magazines away, deliver slips for study periods, catalogue new books, and help people find material.

Future Teachers of America

Today's students might very well be tomorrow's teachers. Some girls have already made up their minds that they will be. By participating in the Future Teachers of America, sponsored by Mr. Murphy, these girls have a chance to meet with others interested in a teaching career and discuss types of teaching, school problems, and the assets of the teaching field. They also take trips to teachers' colleges and are given lectures by past teachers, current teachers and student teachers. Under the new teacher-aides program, they apply their own knowledge of teaching by tutoring fellow students during study periods or after school. Perhaps someday, they will return to their alma mater as full-fledged teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Yakoo—Roger and Judy.

One magic night, looked forward to for months, looked back upon for years, and cherished always: your own Senior Prom. The members of the Prom Committee were chosen by the class officers. Under the chairmanship of Jay Connerty and Jeanne Casey and the advice of Mr. Pierce, they selected a theme, and favors, and the band. The Sidney Hill Country Club, Gill Loring's Orchestra, the soft pastels of flowing evening gowns, and cool breezes were all a dream come true.

How often do five hundred seniors have a chance to get together for a day of swimming, eating, soaking up the sun, or just plain goofing off? Not very often. But there is one day when this dream of every senior comes true. Class Day at Lake Pearl is a memorable experience, made possible by the hard-working Class Day Committee, sponsored by Mr. Pierce.

Without the efforts of a devoted Spirit Committee, just think of how dull, prosaic and lifeless our stairwells would be! They sponsored Booster buses just to make sure that we got to the games safely and sold us traditional Go-North-Go buttons. The Fall Spirit Committee, under the chairmanship of Barbara Flaherty, staged a hilarious Thanksgiving Rally and stirred up enthusiasm for the Raider Tribe by encouraging us to wear red Indian feathers at the Thanksgiving Game. During the basketball and hockey seasons, Jane Leavens took over the chairmanship, continuing to project the true North Quincy High spirit.

Saturday night is the loveliest night of the week. Lay aside your books, put on your fancy duds, and get set for a groovy evening of dancing and socializing in North's gymnasium. Last fall, swingers did the "Tighten Up" to the boom and beat of the Filet of Soul. The dance was made possible by the Dance Committees headed by the Senior Class Officers and advised by Mr. Pierce. Committee members hired bands and policemen, advertised with posters and loudspeaker announcements, printed and sold tickets, decorated the gym, and willingly suffered the assorted headaches of planning a shindig.

Tri-Hi-Y

If you come across a girl whose motto is "try", you'll know she is a member of the Tri-Hi-Y. Each member of this service organization sponsored by Mrs. Whitcomb, at the YMCA, tried her best to contribute to her community. Each month the girls performed a service project. In November, they presented Thanksgiving Baskets to the needy. In December, they made Christmas toys for the underprivileged children and sang carols at nursing homes. Although the girls did not receive merit rewards for their services, their personal rewards of self-fulfillment were greater.

Anthropology

Because of the astounding popularity of North's Anthropology course last year, it was offered again as a major subject to one hundred students. Students studied two terms of physical anthropology with Miss Bollen and two terms of cultural anthropology with Mr. LaCouture. Physical anthropology deals with evolution, genetics, and adaptation to environment while cultural teaches the significance of man's institutions. This course was enriched by museum trips, guest lecturers and weekly movies.

Boys' Bowling

On Thursday afternoons at the Wollaston Boulevard Bowladrome a group of boys from North have a real "ball." Why? Simply because they enjoy bowling so much. Divided into six teams, the boys compete for trophies that are given to the first place team. Also, at a final awards banquet, trophies are presented to the individuals with the highest score and the highest average.

Wrong-way Charlie!

Bowling doesn't excite everyone . . . huh John?

Many girls who had spare time on Monday after school wended their way to the Norfolk Downs Alleys for a pleasant afternoon of socializing, eating, and perhaps even a bit of bowling. Under the leadership of Miss Leonard, the girls were divided into teams that competed for trophies. Each girl hoped she would qualify for play-offs. The lucky winners with the highest scores and averages claimed their prizes at a final Awards Banquet.

Girls' Sports

Whether they joined in order to improve their skills, to work off the excess flab, or to simply have fun, the Lively Set found Girls' Sports to be rewarding and worthwhile. Volleyball, basketball and tennis were offered to interested girls after school this year. Under the direction of Miss O' Connor the girls divided into teams that participated in intramurals, and later played round-robin tournaments. Tournament winners competed for the school championship, but whether they won or lost, they were always good sports.

Rifle Club

North Quincy High's Rifle Club meets every Wednesday evening in the basement of Atlantic Junior High. Club members shoot not only at targets, but also at cans and pennies in practicing for their meets with other high schools.

North Star

Under the sponsorship of Miss Murray, the North Star this year has tried to break tradition and create some controversy. Its main aim has been to give North's student body an outlet for their complaints and criticisms as well as their praises on all aspects connected with school life. The North Star covered North's sports and programs such as Senator Kennedy's speech at Quincy High. The North Star kept the student body informed and amused.

Fashion Show

Even though the dresses modeled at North's annual Fashion Show look as if they might have come from the window of Sak's Fifth Avenue, they are actually creations of North Quincy Girls, Inc., and the stunning models are the North Quincy girls themselves. Under the supervision of Mrs. Mahoney, the Fashion Show gives girls a chance to model dresses, suits, play clothes, or gowns they sew in their Home Economics classes. With soft background music and Mrs. Mahoney's running commentary, the girls model both simple and complex patterns in varied weights and colors of cloth. They are delighted at the "oohs" and "ahs" of girls in the audience who simply can't wait to start producing their very own stylish wardrobes. They too are challenged to become women of fashion.

Round and round and round it goes . . . and our excitement grows and grows. We are fascinated as we witness the flash of the spinning batons. The agile fingers of our Majorettes were well trained to provide us with entertainment at football games, rallies and parades. Under the direction of Miss O'Connor, the Majorettes practiced their routines on Tuesday and Friday afternoons in the Body Mechanics room. Drum Majorette Jane Leavens coordinated their marching with that of the band. We cannot deny that our Majorettes were major contributors to North's fine school spirit.

What is Happiness?

Is it practicing strenuous physical exercise every Wednesday and Thursday afternoon from 2:30 to 4:00?

Is it standing out on a football field in the rain?

Is it wearing a mini-skirt in bitter cold weather?

Is it giving up a Friday night date to spend the evening screaming at a basketball game?

Is it making a valuable contribution to school spirit by leading the fans in showing support for North's football, basketball, and hockey teams?

Yes—Happiness is Cheerleading. Ask Anne Fagan, head cheerleader, or ask any other cheerleader.

Let's give three cheers for these spirited girls.

Sure is a strong wind today . . .

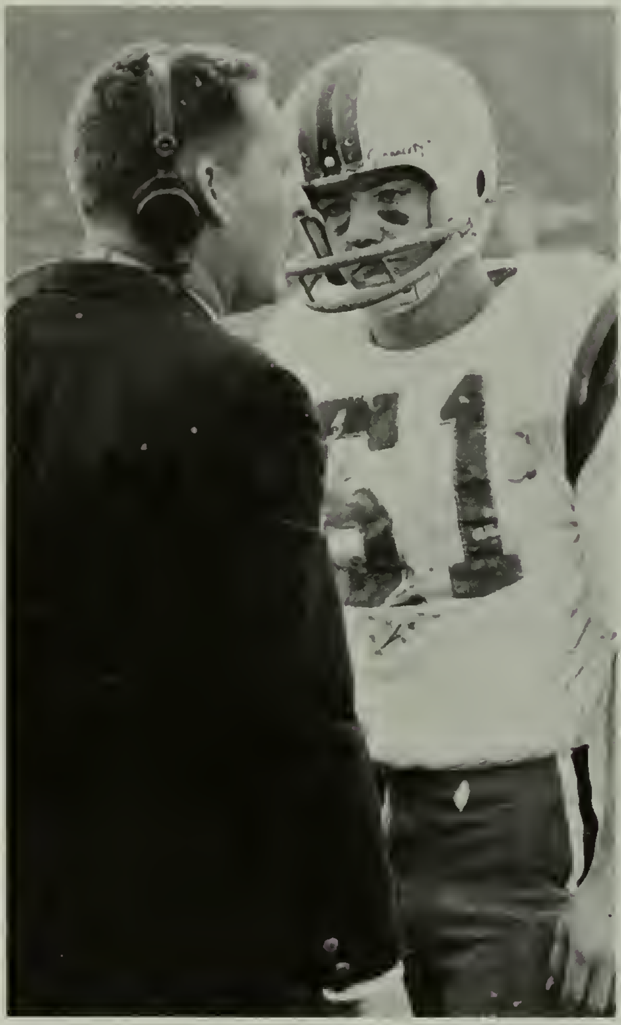
Bobby gets ready.



Got a hankie, Coach?

This year's well-balanced and well-coached squad was characterized by a powerful offense and an even stronger defense. North's scoring proficiency resulted from the consistent running of Larry Bray, Don Meyer, and Dan Polvere; the clutch pass receiving of Wege Trubiano and Steve Poore; and the superior play selection and execution by quarterback Bob Sleeth. The offensive line of Steve LaShane, Whitey Bartelson, Steve Dieso, Tom Perrin, Tom Piscatelli and Kevin Colleran was truly outstanding. The defense allowed little yardage by either pass or rush. Steve Dieso, St. LeShane, Larry Bray, and Don Meyer contained the opponent's running attack while Joe Lane, Bob Swirbalus and Jay Connerty excelled in defending against the pass. Although good, the 6-3 record doesn't indicate how close the team came to an undefeated season.

Coached by George Golding, the gym team swung through its seventh season. Outstanding performers included Paul Downey on the still rings, Herb Newell on the horse and Jeff Weisman on the parallel bars and floor. Gymnastics, now growing in popularity, is a sport which serves the aims of physical education by developing strength, skill, flexibility, balance, courage and inventiveness. A judge awards the gymnast a maximum of 10 points for his routine depending on execution, skill of combining movements and difficulty of moves attempted. The score awarded each gymnast then becomes the score awarded the team.

Soccer

This year's varsity soccer squad possessed considerable individual talent but lacked the necessary team play which marks a winning club. In the first nine games, North compiled a 5-2-2 record which placed the team one point off the top with three games to play. But in the crucial Sharon game, the Raiders dropped a 1-0 decision. Then Coach Golding was lost for the season because of an auto accident. North managed to tie Hingham but lost to Quincy, ending with a 5-4-3 record.

The team had excellent depth in the forward position with Bruce Healy, David Haight, and George Bourikas scoring consistantly. Outstanding on defense were goalie Don Gilliland, halfback Mark McLaughlin and fullback Roger Conboy. At the end of the season North had two players chosen for the League's All Star team, Bruce Healey and Roger Conboy. In addition, Bruce was selected for the Patriot Ledger's All Scholastic squad.

Hockey

As they sliced the ice, their faces puckered up with concentration, the Hockey Team members played with a determination and pride that deserves much praise. Under the direction of Coach Laing, the team completed a long disappointing season with a record of two wins, nine losses and two ties. An example of the team's hard work and exciting play was the game in which North tied undefeated Malden. Outstanding players were captain Bob Pierce, Cliff MacDonald, Lenni Curreri, Kevin Colleran and Ken Kline. Their aim was to shoot to score and to score to win, and of victory they had a taste.

"Now look, gang . . ."

A combination of seasoned veterans, natural talent, great desire, determination, a fine coach and a we-don't-mess-around attitude on the court captured the Greater Boston League basketball championship for North in 1969. After a thrilling season of fourteen victories and three losses, the team passed the Tech Tourney qualifications with flying colors.

The reason was Coach Nolan's system of teamwork and excellent defense. The Raiders' performance was that of an efficient unit of five equally important parts. Their defense was a tough man-to-man in which all five players hustled, for if even one man relaxed the defense would be destroyed.

North's Basketball Team boasted many outstanding players. Bob Sleeth, Don Constantine, Richard Sprague and Tom Flynn were high scorers. Perhaps the greatest asset to the team was fancy-shooting guard Mark Jellison, who averaged 23 points per game. Constantine's mobility and spring, Sprague's superb timing and deftly soft touch, Sleeth's jump shots on a quick drive, Flynn's and Lane's recoveries of the ball, and the general "fire" of the Raiders sparked a tremendous team.

Faithfully plodding around the triangle every day, with visions of Olympic gold medals in their heads, the Track and Cross Country Teams ran through a successful year at North. This year was what might be called a building year—the teams were larger than usual, a fact that speaks well for the future—as most of the members were sophomores. Consequently, the Cross Country Team finished with a 6-4 record, having defeated Quincy High twice. They also had the opportunity to run over the four mile course at the Blue Hills Regional School. Outstanding cross country runners included Captain Mike Noonan, Jackie Yee and John Cavagnaro. The Track Teams also stayed on the right track. Roger Conboy set two new records for North with a new shot put record of 46 feet 1½ inches and high jumping record of 5 feet 11 inches. Richard O'Hanley and Larry Frechette soared swiftly over the hurdles while Roger Conboy, Richard Yee, Steve Poore and Paul Affsa constituted an excellent relay team.

Tennis, anyone? Tennis, sometimes known as the game of love, is a sport which can grow into a lifetime passion. In the spring, North's Tennis Team practiced faithfully every afternoon at the Welcome Young Courts under the direction of Mr. Laing. They wore out countless cans of tennis balls in attempting to defeat such teams as Hingham, Weymouth, Brockton, Quincy and B. C. High. Although they were not eligible to compete for the Davis Cup, they all had a smashing time on the courts.

North, one of the pioneers in high school golf, finished its thirty-seventh season in golf this year, with Mr. Donahue again as coach. Over this period, North's team has had an excellent record with approximately two-thirds of its matches resulting in victories. This includes winning the high school championship twice. North is a member of the Massachusetts' Coast League. In 1968, North boasted a fine record of seven wins, two losses and one tie.

Returning veterans this season were John Meehan and Mike Zakrewski. Prominent candidates included Wayne Fick, Brian Killeen, Ken Kline, and John Moran plus another twenty boys who aimed to make the team. At any rate, all these boys chose a good activity in which to participate!

Baseball

Last year was primarily a building year for North's Baseball Team. Over half the varsity team was composed of juniors and sophomores who gained valuable experience in their first year starting. Last year's coach, Mr. Moscadelli, having become assistant principal at Central, relinquished his job to Mr. Bunker, an experienced ball player himself, having been a minor league pitcher with the Red Sox.

The team looks forward to a promising season in '69. Mr. Bunker brings his first-hand experience to the team, especially to the pitching staff. With the return of Garry McGrath, backbone of the pitching staff, Frank Costa, and Craig Bogosian, also pitchers, and aided by the experienced senior talent of catcher Kevin Colleran, second basemen Jim Broderick and John Murray, shortstop Tom Flynn, right fielder Dennis Driscoll, left fielder James Alberino and center fielder Steve Thomasetti, the team aims to show the Red Sox how a real baseball game is performed!

In Memory

of
PETER J. ZOIA, JR.
1951-1966

"Pete, as we all so fondly knew him, stood out in an athletic squad, a young people's group, and even among his peers, because he possessed a quiet yet friendly determination for good in his approach to every phase of his youthful dealings. He was endowed with a drive which urged him to excell in every activity that touched him during his all-too-brief lifetime. This young man was blessed with the qualities of leadership and was determined to see that these blessings were not granted in vain. Sturdy of physical make-up, he played and gave of himself completely—setting an example for other young people in his every endeavor.

Praise of his accomplishments that extended in so many directions served only to make him more humble, and ready to give the credit to others. Peter Zoia, Jr. more than lived up to all that was expected of him. His splendid example is an infallible guide, yet, paradoxically, makes his passing the more difficult for all."

The story of Manet 1969 is one of lots of hard work, late nights, frustration and fun. We had lots of problems that worried us, but somehow everything seemed to get done on time. We also had puns to groan at, vanilla cokes and chocolate chip cookies to consume and a Pepsi box to carry from room to room. Since we would never have made it without them, we would like to thank all the people who helped us: patrons, sponsors and staff workers, our photographer Mr. James Bleiler and Mr. Roswell Farnham, our publisher's representative. In addition we would like to thank Mr. Grappi for putting up with us all year. Finally, we would like to express our deepest gratitude to Mrs. Mary Young for her guidance, hard work and sincere interest.
